++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Early rain clearing then mostly dry with sunny spells.

Today:
Cloud and patchy drizzle gradually breaking up and clearing through the morning to leave a mainly dry afternoon with sunny spells, perhaps the odd shower over the Peak District. Becoming breezy across the north of the region. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Evening cloud and rain over the hills clearing southeastwards. Clear spells developing, allowing a grass frost in places, before more cloud arrives after midnight in the northwest. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Wednesday:
Cloudy with some showery rain over the Peak District during the morning. Drier and brighter further east with sunny spells. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Mostly cloudy, mild with strong winds Thursday and Friday, outbreaks of rain and drizzle, especially across Derbyshire hills. Rain for a time later on Saturday, before turning colder overnight.
